About Me

Hi, I'm Arpit Suiwal, a BCA student in Data Science with a passion for creative problem-solving and innovative design. My major interests lie in designing and UI/UX development, where I aim to craft intuitive and user-centric experiences. With a keen eye for detail and a knack for understanding user needs, I strive to create visually stunning and functional designs that make a lasting impact. Currently, I'm exploring the intersection of data science and design, seeking to leverage my skills to drive meaningful insights and informed design decisions."
